Built Products

OFSuite (OnlyFlick Suite) is a collection of web applications designed to facilitate the collection, processing, and presentation of information in a quick and efficient manner. The primary concept is to offer users straightforward and easily navigable interfaces, allowing users to access or submit information with ease.

OFSuite enhances time efficiency and provides a bridge from offline media to online media for information retrieval while also capturing valuable insights and analytics regarding end-user behaviours, demographics, geolocation, and more. This enables users to foster stronger connections with businesses and provides businesses with essential insights.

OFSuite Solutions

Exiverlabs believe in developed digital technologies solutions can provide solutions to all the problems of print media if an offline-to-online bridge is provided.

flickbridge

Internal features of the OFSuite provide the ability to generate QR codes for online resources with custom logos and formats. This provides an offline-to-online bridge for the print media.

flickforms

A drag-and-drop interface to create web forms that can be used with surveys, pools, or directly on flick pages with an endpoint link; last but not least, it can be accessible with flick bridge QR code as well media.

flickpolls

A drag-and-drop tool to create a dedicated page & polls for a business with easily accessible links for the information. i.e., social media links. Feedback page link, Grievance page link etc.

flicksurvey

Flick Survey helps to create surveys for customers of a potential business. Get critical insights on the latest changes made or opinion of the customers or parties involved.

Vocalbus - Audio On Demand

VocalBus is an AOD (Audio on demand platform) which can be used to provide audio tours of products, services, heritage sites, Administration policies. It also support Live streaming capabilities to broadcast audio. VocalBus can be integrated with the flick bridge to provide a QR as a endpoint to connect with their platform. Another way of accessing platform is via organic searches.

Provide an Extra medium

Rather than sticking with the static text and static media.

Saves Time and effort

For humans, it is easier to have an audio tour than to read through a piece of text and get information out of it

Redirection

Audio can be used as a redirection media to redirect the users to feedback, forms or any other places

Help with Connection

It is proven fact; easy to convey information or gather information with audio as a medium

Our Process

At Exiverlabs, we believe in a structured yet flexible approach to drive your project's success. Our process is designed to deliver quality results, keeping your goals at the center of every step, ensuring timely and cost-effective delivery while exceeding your expectations

Discovery

We begin with understanding you. This phase involves close collaboration to understand your business objectives, challenges, and any specific requirements. We prioritize building a solid relationship, ensuring we have the necessary information to plan a project that aligns with your needs and goals

Key Actions:

- Stakeholder interviews
- Research and analysis
- Project scoping and definition

Strategy & Planning

Once we've gathered the essentials, we move into creating the perfect roadmap for the project. This phase includes clear identification of KPIs, project milestones, and a realistic timeline, making sure we stay on track throughout development

Key Actions:

- Roadmap creation
- Identifying goals and KPIs
- Aligning milestones and project deadlines
- Risk management and mitigation strategies

Agile Execution

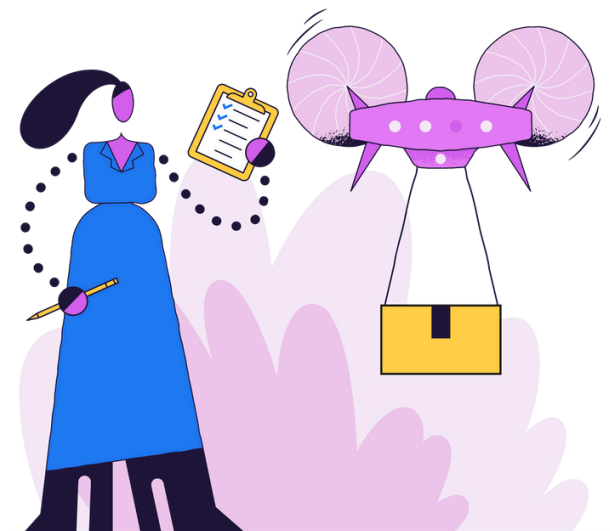

In this iterative phase, we develop the product in sprints, ensuring constant collaboration. Our agile approach encourages continuous feedback from you, keeping the project flexible to adapt to evolving needs. With every iteration, the project takes shape and improves

Key Actions:

- Sprint-based development
- Regular check-ins with clients
- Real-time course adjustments and improvement

Testing & Quality Assurance

We put the product through rigorous testing using the latest tools and techniques. This phase ensures smooth functionality and verifies all requirements are met. We address potential issues early, ensuring a glitch-free product launch

Key Actions:

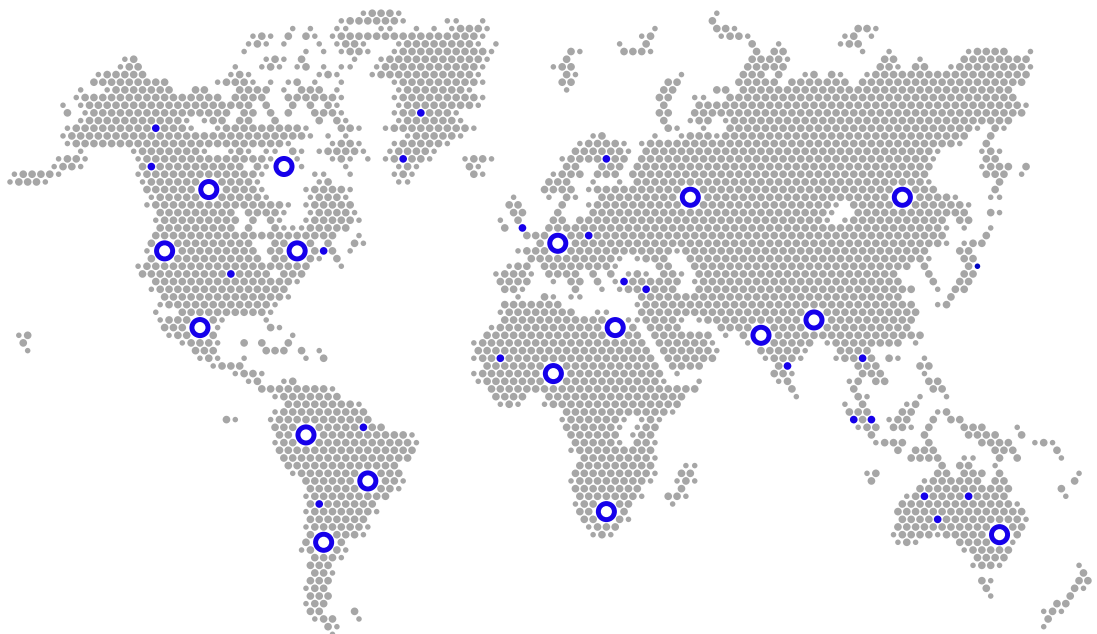

- Automated and manual testing
- Bug identification and resolution
- User acceptance testing (UAT)

Deployment and Support

Launching is the culmination of our efforts, and we ensure a smooth rollout with minimal downtime. Post-launch, we provide comprehensive support and training, so your team is confident and prepared to make the most of the final product

Key Actions:

- Seamless deployment
- Training sessions
- Ongoing post-launch support
